Coconut Power Balls

If you're looking for a quick recipe that will give you the perfect boost of energy after a long afternoon or even just to make it through the rest of your day then you have got to try these coconut power balls.

Ingredients:

- 1 ½ cup coconut flour
- ¼ cup stevia
- 1 ½ tsp vanilla
- 2 Tbsp refined coconut oil, melted and cooled
- 2 Tbsp unsweetened coconut milk
- Pinch of salt
- Unsweetened coconut chips

Directions:

- Mix all the ingredients (minus coconut chips) in the food processor or by hand
- Process for 10 seconds before scraping down the sides and processing for an additional 10 seconds.
- In a smaller bowl, pour the unflavored coconut chips (or your desired topping)
- Roll mixed ingredients into large marble sized balls
- Place each roll in your smaller topping bowl so that your coconut chips begin to stick
- Once the balls are covered in coconut chips, place them on a separate plate
- Refrigerate them in the fridge for at least an hour and then keep them in the fridge until you're ready for a snack

"Celebrate the small victories."
